The period of sanction accorded by the Government for the retention of the Personal Assistant to the Collector and the two peons working under him will expire on 31-3-1946. The Government have observed in G.O. Ms. No. 1991 dated 2-11-45 that full justification should be given in support of any proposal for the retention of this staff beyond 31st March 1946.

2. The temporary post of a Personal Assistant to the Collector was first sanctioned in G.O. No. Ms. Revenue Department, 2368, dated 23rd August 1943, to cope with the increased work in the Collector's office. I enclose a tabular statement showing the statistics of work during the last eight years commencing from 1938. Figures to the Treasury Deputy Collector's office are also shown in the statement in addition to the magisterial papers which are mostly dealt with by the Additional District Magistrate and which do not go into the half yearly business returns.

3. These statistics speak for themselves. They show at a glance the work both in the Collector's office and the Treasury Deputy Collector's office has been steadily on the increase. When compared with the despatch of business during the pre-war years the work in the Collector's office had nearly doubled itself in 1944 and 1945. An office of a District Supply officer was opened in March 1945 and the office had 2417 papers for disposal during the remaining nine months in 1945. The Personal Assistant had some relief to this extent in 1945 but this was off set by the unusual increase in the disposal papers which had nearly doubled themselves in 1945, when added with the total number of papers for disposal in 1944. It is therefore be clear that the work has been exceedingly heavy in 1944 and 1945. A steady increase is also noticed in the work of the Treasury Deputy Collector, who has to assist the Collector if there is to be no Personal Assistant.

4. In spite of all the improvement and prompt despatch of business I myself fully occupied with the work on hand, which shows a slight decrease in 1946. The work continues to be heavy and exacting account of the intensive procurement scheme, the import and export of essential commodities, the resettlement of demobilised personnel and the increasing need for greater control, etc. on account of the deteriorating food position. The Personal Assistant is also fully occupied with his work and his continuance is quite essential until there is any appreciable reduction in work. I therefore request that the period of retention of the Personal Assistant and two persons working under him may be extended till 31-3-1947. If necessity for the continuance of this staff ceases earlier, proposals will be submitted at once for the disbandment of the staff.
